Research Associate or Full Professor
Department of Environmental and Global Health

The University of Florida College of Public Health and Health Professions (PHHP) invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track Research Associate/Full Professor level position in the College’s Environmental and Global Health Department. Ideally, the candidate will be engaged in basic or applied research in the area of environmental virology with a focus on viral discovery, surveillance and basic science. This individual will have opportunities to also teach, advise students, and collaborate professionally with colleagues in the Emerging Pathogens Institute (www.epi.ufl.edu), and the Center for Environmental and Human Toxicology. Applicants should have a doctoral degree in an environmental or biomedical-related field. Evidence of extramural funding is essential and experience in environmental health teaching preferred. The position is supported by a competitive salary and start-up package. This is a 1.0 FTE, 12-month position, expected to start Spring-Summer 2017.

The University of Florida is located in Gainesville, FL, which has been ranked the Best Place to Live in the US by Sperling and Sander's Cities Ranked & Rated. The College of Public Health and Health Professions is in the University's Health Science Center, which also includes the Colleges of Medicine, Pharmacy, Nursing, Dentistry, and Veterinary Medicine. The Health Science Center also partners with the immediately adjacent UF Health Shands Hospital, and Malcom Randall VA Medical Center, and the UF Health Science Center Regional campus located in Jacksonville, FL. Additional major institutes and centers located at the University of Florida include the Emerging Pathogens Institute, the Institute of Child Health Policy, the UF Health Cancer Center, the UF Genetics Institute, the Clinical and Translational Science Institute and the McKnight Brain Institute, all of which provide state-of-the-art environments and access to large data sets for faculty collaboration.

To view the job posting online and submit an application packet, which includes a CV, letter of interest, and contact information for three references, go to http://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/cw/en-us/listing/ and search by Job# 501228. Application deadline date is March 14, 2017.

The University of Florida is an equal opportunity institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the US. Searches are conducted in accordance with Florida’s Sunshine Law.