Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor

The College of Public Health and Health Professions invites applications for a Clinical Assistant or Associate Professor rank in the area of social and behavioral science, with an emphasis in public health. The ideal candidate for this position is expected to: a) have a doctoral degree in the social and behavioral sciences with a public health emphasis; b) possess an MPH degree, as part of the academic assignment will be to teach in the college’s public health program; and c) display a record of scholarly achievements appropriate for the intended rank. The position will be shared with the Dean’s Office and the appropriate academic home within the college. This is a full-time (1.0 FTE), 12-month, non-tenure accruing position, with an open start date.

The University of Florida is a comprehensive doctoral research-extensive university that includes a full range of academic departments and programs (www.ufl.edu). It has a long history of established programs in international education, research and service and is one of only 17 public, land-grant universities that belong to the Association of American Universities. The College of Public Health and Health Professions is part of the University’s Health Science Center, which includes the Colleges of Medicine, Pharmacy, Nursing, Dentistry, and Veterinary Medicine.

To view the job posting online and submit an application packet, which includes a CV, letter of interest, and list of references, go to http://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/cw/en-us/listing/ and search by Job# 500803. Application deadline date is March 22, 2017.

The University of Florida is an Equal Opportunity institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. If an accommodation due to a disability is needed to apply for this position, please call 352-392-2477 or the Florida Relay System at 800-955-8771 (TDD). Searches are conducted in accordance with Florida’s Sunshine Law.